CRITTERS STEEL PUDDING

Saga had the opportunity to interview the Critters and the Steel Pudding during intermission of the Fall Weekend concert. Here are some excerpts of those interviews:

CRITTERS

SAGA: OK, the tape's on. Who would like to start?

CRITTERS: Well, I'm Jim Ryan, from Westfield, N. J. and I do my thing on lead guitar . . . I'm Bob Spindler from Brooklyn and I play the organ. Don't mess with me . . . I'm Ken Gorkin from Edison, and I play bass . . . Jeff from Maplewood, N. J. and I play drums . . . also top tenor.

SAGA: How did you fellas get started?

CRITTERS: In a bathtub . . . in high school 130 years ago . . . high school dances.

SAGA: Do you mean that you were in high school together?

CRITTERS: (Jim) Kenney and I were. (Bob and Jeff) joined us later to replace the two that were drafted.

SAGA: Do you have any previous musical training?

CRITTERS: Yea, we all have a little . . . if we tune up.

SAGA: Do you like performing?

CRITTERS: Yes, oh, yes . . . it's enjoyable.

SAGA: What do you get out of it?

CRITTERS: Money . . . satisfaction . . . oh, that's what the other group said . . . yeah . . . satisfaction.

SAGA: Do you like college audiences?

CRITTERS: Yes, definitely . . . they're more educated . . . Yes, everybody's with it . . . They're into the music . . . Yes, they listen to you and don't scream.

SAGA: Whom do you consider the top group in R&R today?

CRITTERS: Cream or Hendrix . . . well, the Beatles of course.

SAGA: Do you think that the Beatles or any other groups are heading toward a new trend in R&R?

CRITTERS: The Beatles are always heading toward a new trend . . . they're going to blow everybody's mind with their next album . . . they're constantly changing . . . they're leading the market.

SAGA: Do you think that music is helped or hindered by drugs?

CRITTERS: Yes, definitely helped . . . for some people it has been and for others it hasn't . . . people like Eric Clapton and Jimi Hendrix . . . they all take drugs and they write pretty good . . . I don't know any who write on it but then I don't know what you mean when you say drugs.

SAGA: What do you fellas think of the campus movements like Berkeley and Columbia?

CRITTERS: (Jim) It's just like a lot of people believe in something very strongly . . . I don't know if that's actually the way to do it, but you know it's nice to think that people you know have enough to go to a lot of trouble for some causes. (Ken) On some campus movements half the people don't know what they're fighting for . . . Campus movements are OK because all the people are oriented to what they are doing, but off-campus movements in Times Square are something half of them don't know what they're there for.

SAGA: How do you fellas feel about the war?

CRITTERS: Is there a war?

SAGA: What are your plans for the future?

CRITTERS: New album . . . new single . . . we're going to do a Mike Douglas and a Merv Griffin, soon.

SAGA: What do you think you are doing for contemporary music?

CRITTERS: Actually, music will have to come back to us. No, seriously, sooner or later we'll have more ballad type things . . . more music-type music . . . although there is nothing wrong with music today . . . "Hey, Jude" and things like that are a step backwards . . . so, if they keep going backwards, they'll run into us.

SAGA: What do you think of the Presidential elections?

CRITTERS: (Jeff) It's a joke.

STEEL PUDDING

SAGA: How did you get started?

PUDDING: Glenn and I played together about 2½ years ago . . . Glenn played drums . . . we played in two groups . . . and I was always getting in trouble because of school, not getting good grades and my father kept pulling me out of the band . . . Glenn switched from drums to guitar . . . because Wayne and Billy started to learn how to play guitar . . . I showed him a little here and there and we used to fool around . . . down in the cellar . . . we had one singer, but he didn't sing the right kind of music . . . Joe hung around with us for about two years . . . we didn't know that he could sing . . . just walking up the street a couple of times and hearing him sing, we found out that Joe had a good voice.

SAGA: Do you like to perform?

PUDDING: Yes!!!

SAGA: Do you write your own music?

PUDDING: Unfortunately, no.

SAGA: What do you fellas get out of performing?

PUDDING: Satisfaction . . . personal satisfaction.

SAGA: What in your opinion is the best group in R&R today?

PUDDING: The BEATLES!

SAGA: What do you think of R&R today?

PUDDING: It's alright.

SAGA: What do you think of a college audience?

PUDDING: We played at high schools, dances, and college dances, and as I say, they're more mature and they know what's happening . . . they're there without any trouble or anything . . . it's great . . . they understand better.

SAGA: What do you think of a college audience, Joe?

PUDDING: (Joe) It's a lot better . . . I think it's the best audience that you can play for because you know if they like you . . . they let you know if they don't . . . ha,ha,ha, ha, ha, . . . !

SAGA: What is your name?

PUDDING: Bill . . . I play organ and am from Jersey City.

SAGA: And yours?

PUDDING: I'm the self-proclaimed "studs", otherwise known as Wayne Debeke.

SAGA: What do you play?

PUDDING: ("Studs") Drums.

SAGA: Have you had any previous professional training?

PUDDING: I'm taking it right now, I . . . yeh, training lessons . . . bed training . . .

SAGA: What is your favorite group?

PUDDING: It's between the Cream and the Fudge.

SAGA: Is R&R helped or hindered by drugs?

PUDDING: Hindered . . . hindered? . . . I take the fifth!!

SAGA: Oh, we didn't get your name.

PUDDING: Joe . . . lead guitar.

SAGA: What are your plans for the future?

PUDDING: (We) expect to go to college soon so that we can keep the band together . . . so we won't get drafted . . . ha,ha,ha! . . . I'm going to training school . . . ha,ha,ha!

SAGA: What do you fellas think of the war?

PUDDING: How about it? I don't like it . . . I think it's wrong . . . I think we ought to get out or win. . . . get out . . . kill the bastards . . . drop the atomic bomb.

SAGA: How do you feel about the presidential election?

PUDDING: (all chime in) WALLACE FOR PRESIDENT!! (fade into chorus)

SAGA: What are you doing for music today?

PUDDING: Helping it . . . giving a lot of groups publicity . . . put it this way, we sing their songs . . . the people should pay us . . . the people hear us and then go out and buy THEIR records.

SAGA: What is the significance of your name?

PUDDING: All I can say about the Steel Pudding is that the proof is in the pudding. . . . !!

Are you with me, Arthur
In this cold, dark night?
Come to me; I will not hurt you.
No—I believe.

Will you return to me, Arthur?
Will you bring back the sugar moon
And leave Excalibur in the lake?

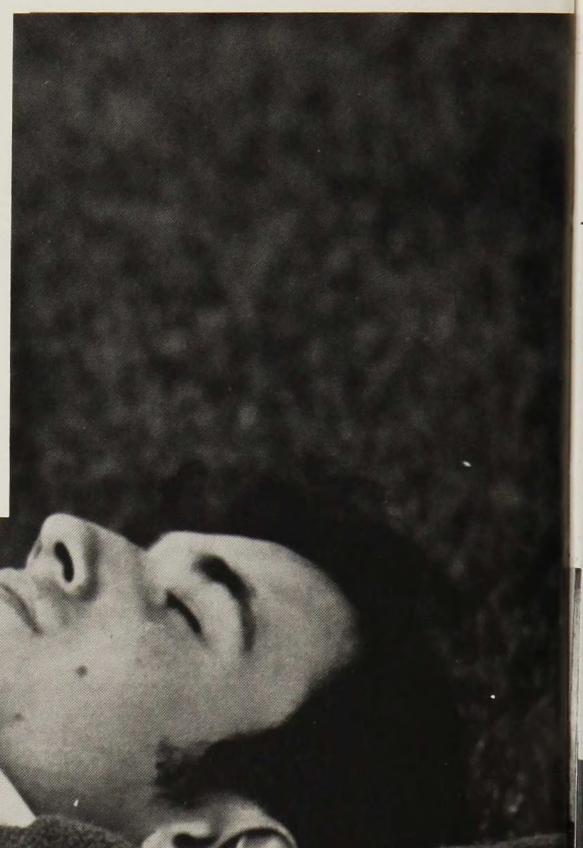

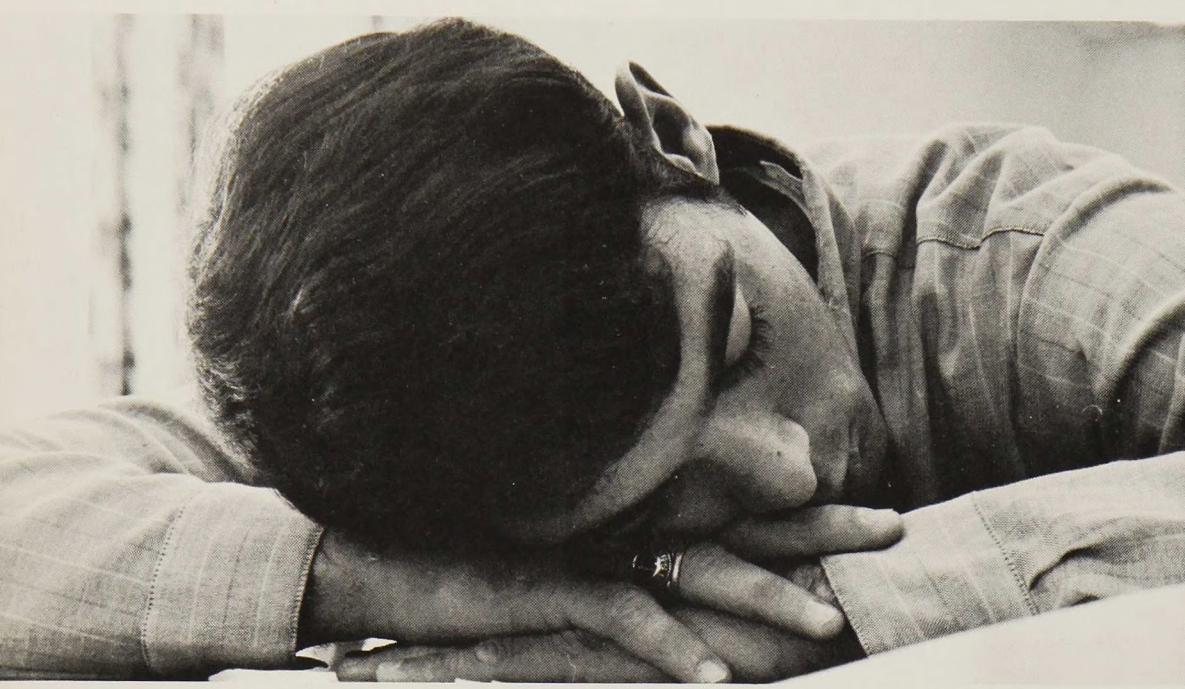

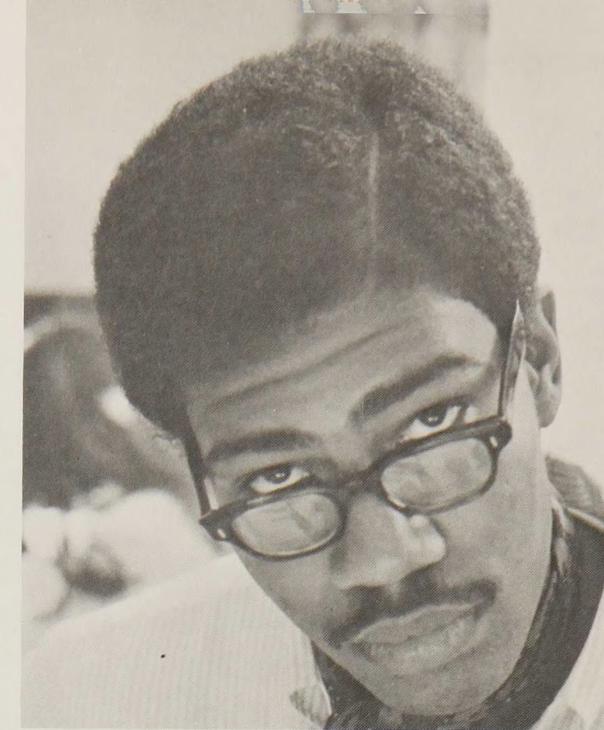

Never let your reddened eyes
See us as we really are,
But let your dreams live
As they were meant to be.

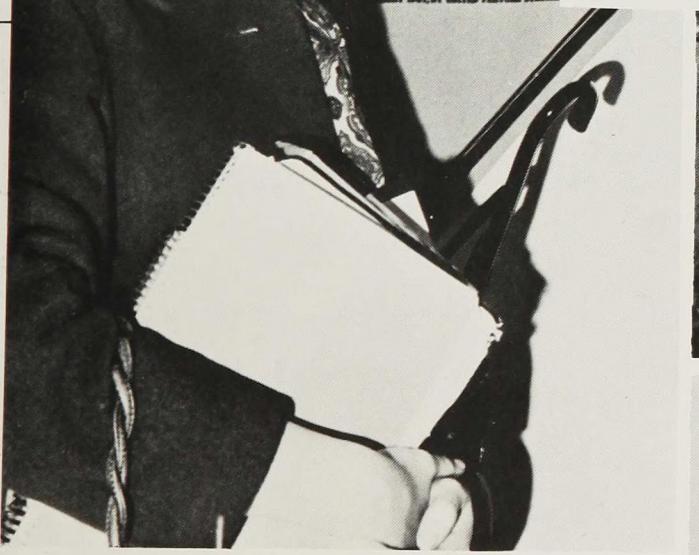

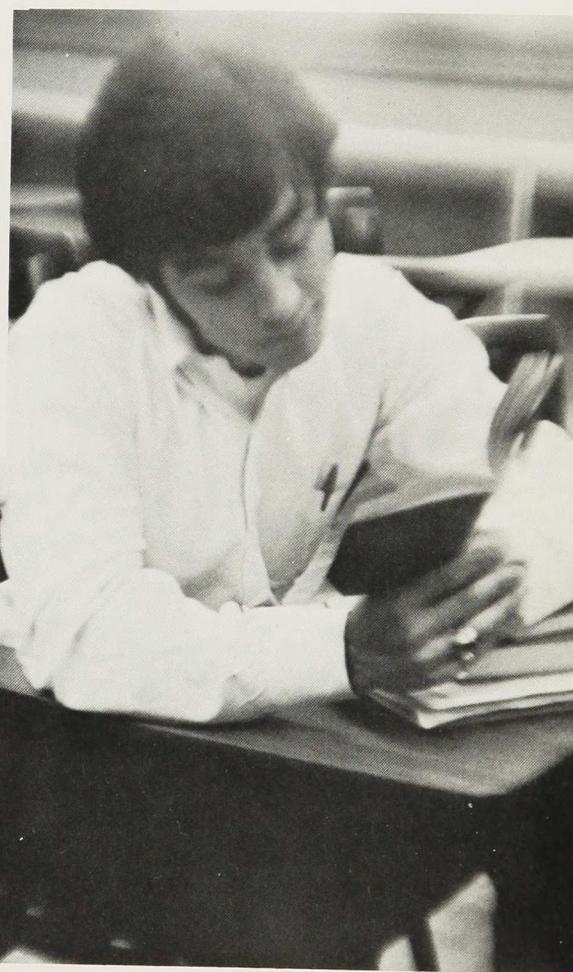

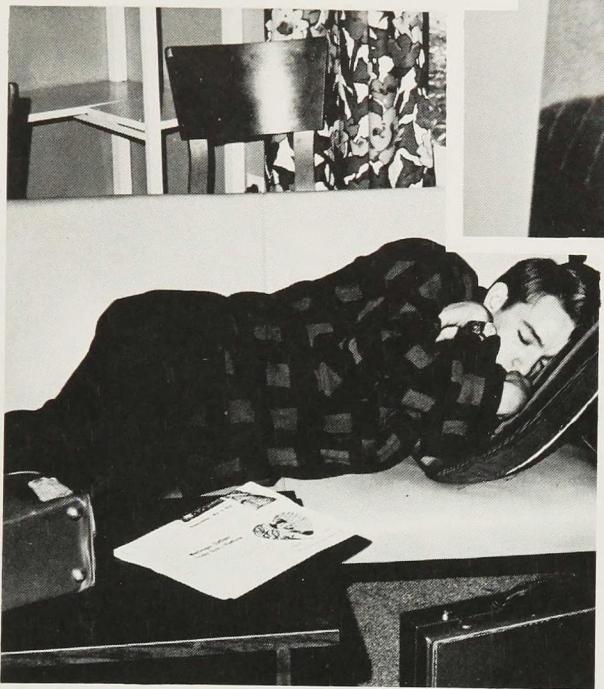

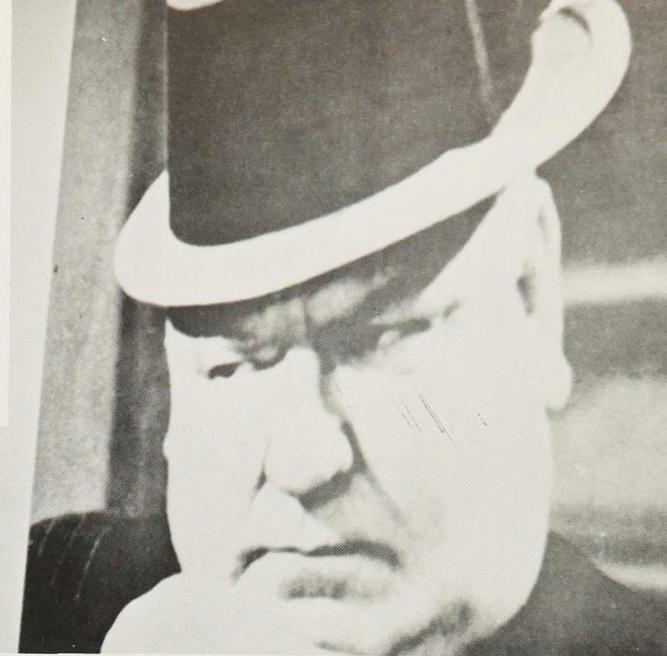

I wonder, Arthur,
If you could linger here
Amidst the crying and the fear,
The slums and pain
And say "Might for Right"
Without a lump in your throat.

Will your eyes still envision good alone
When the damn fools on this earth
Spit before they learn to kiss
And scowl without the knowledge of laughter.

Could your noble ears bear to listen
As your modern quean Guinivere goes again
To lancelots less worthy than du Lac.
Could you forgive?

Oh Arthur!
Where has your great dream gone?
Come, come back and teach us again
To search for the Holy Grail.
Will you return, Arthur?
Will your righteous hand ever
Point the way to Camelot once again.

CENTRAL ATLANTIC COLLEGE CONFERENCE CHAMPS SOCCER

Bloomfield College Soccer Team took the Conference with a record of four wins and no losses. Two offensive positions will be filled next year as Pat McCormack and Greg Schlaccter depart. This year's defensive unit will be intact, as Mark Friedman, Andy Lemer, George Bollenbach, Ron Newman, Bob Lampinen and John Marcy should be back, and Bruce Heany takes over full time duty from Senior Ken Jensen. It won't be easy for this unit to retain positions as many reserves and freshmen will battle to break the lineup. Offensively the competition between Ralph Maglio, Sal Peccorella, Dan Boin, John Bridge, Al Boyle, Tom Basnight, John O'Carroll, the reserve group, and freshmen should be interesting.

Planning for next year has started—practice begins Sept. 2, 1969.

The Bloomfield College Drama Department

"LUTHER MAKES THE THEATRE
TEN FEET TALL!"

The Bloomfield College Theater Department had its beginning in the early sixties. There was expansion of Mrs. Henoch's class into the lunch time theater and some major productions. The next semester the speech courses were expanded into many aspects of the theater. Thereafter the productions began to occur at more regular intervals and got much more attention from the school and the town of Bloomfield. Drama, such as Checkov's The Marriage Proposal gave way to the musical comedies of The Fantasticks and Once Upon a Mattress and interest in the theater became more acute.

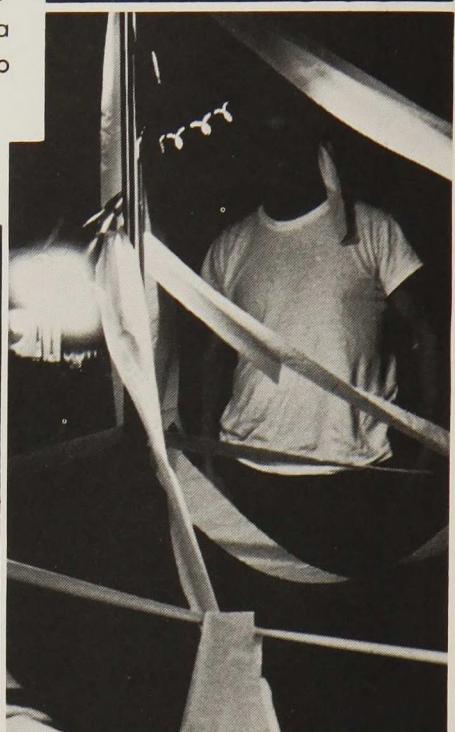

With the acquisition of Westminster Church, the possibility of positioning the theater there was decided and acted upon. During the summer of 1966 the theater in Westminster Hall was built. It was and is the center for drama at Bloomfield College.

WU

Rehearsal is an integral part of the theater and of every performance. Perfection is continually sought after and often a member of the cast will find himself in the wee hours of the morning, going over his lines again and again, checking his scenes and cues. Suddenly the scene is flawless, giggling here, a hush there—And then on to the next scene

The drama does not always involve acting and the production. There are the technical aspects of costume, lighting, makeup and direction. They all combine in the hope of communicating a living experience. An actor must not only be articulate in movement and speech, but in thought as well. Speakers such as the playwright at right serve to give the student new and creative insights.

The actor is a vibrant imagination,
Trapped in a man's body.
He is the herald of words,
The interpreter of speech.
His thoughts churn within him,
And torment him, and force him to create.
An actor is a ticking time bomb,
Ready to explode creatively.
The character and he become one,
An intercourse so personal
That even he believes it happens.
An actor is sensitive
And sensitivity seeps into his characters.
He is greenly jealous,
happy yellow or tragic purple,
Separate or all at once.

His thoughts soar to azure skies,
No chains can hold him,
No bars imprison him,
The embodiment of creativity.
The actor is, in reality, make believe,
And in make believe,
A reality.

The theater has been and still is, one of the most experimental and exciting vehicles for artistic creativity.

Recent performances of Edward Albee's Zoo Story attested to this. The production still proved to be stimulating and brought with it all the sensitivity and nuance of a new experience.

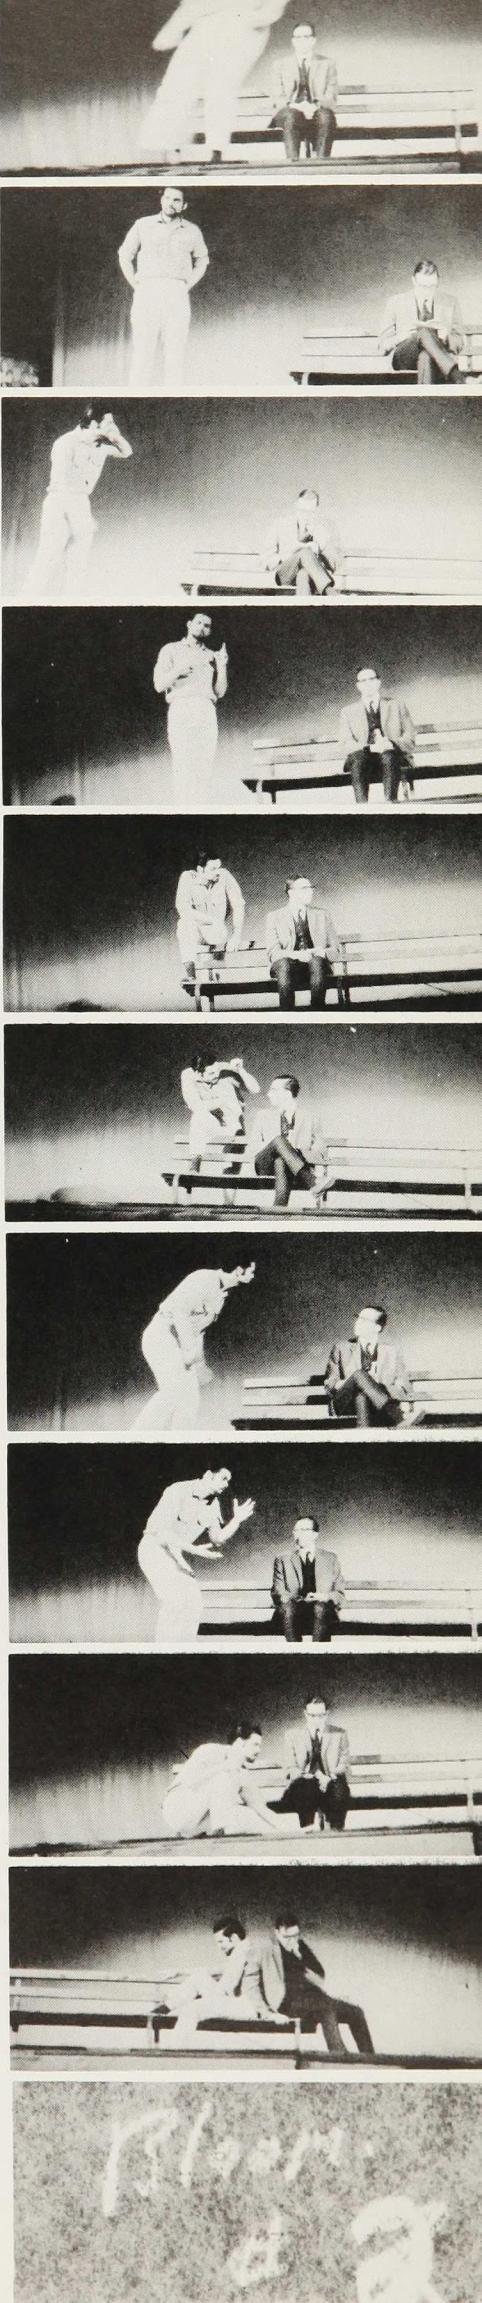

The theater has many facets. It's a picture of life; colors, sounds and smells. Shakespeare gives us many references to the world's being a stage. Drama reflects our feelings and emotions, whether they be sad or happy.

Happiness is certainly an element of three comedies, which were produced by the Drama Department. Volpone, The Fantasticks and Once Upon a Mattress had a lot in common—lots of work and a lot more fun. Mrs. Henoch's production utilized the stage to its greatest capacity

A new play, The Assassians by Edward La Duca was staged by Mrs. Henoch and the theater class. The production of an original work necessitated group concentration, group effort, and innovation. Experimental media and modern theater techniques were employed to create a unique visual experience. The drama attempted to provoke the audience and offered an opportunity for audience discussion at the conclusion of the performance.

86 Oakland is one of two resident houses for women at Bloomfield College. It has a warm, cozy atmosphere the girls really appreciate, and snacks aren't hard to get either.

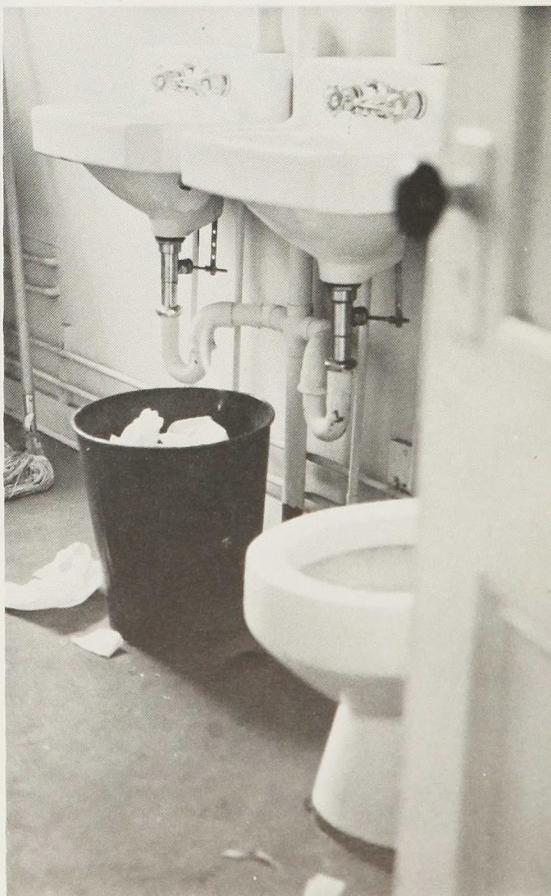

76 Monroe is one of many residential houses for men. Its sleek interior is exceeded only by its exterior, and instant mobility is provided at all times.

Jarvie Hall is the other residential house for women. Its solid and historic foundation assures the girls of peace and quiet.

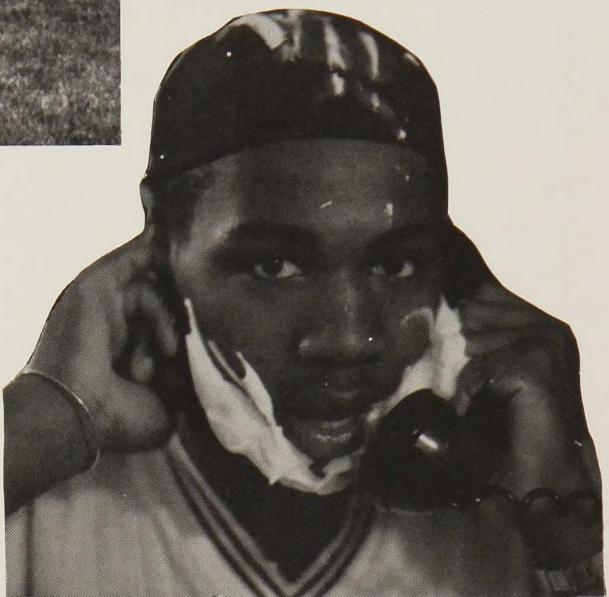

LIVING UNITS AT BLOOMFIELD

Clee Hall is the basic unit for women on the campus. The first floor, in addition to the girl's rooms, contains the apartment of the Residence Hall Director. Of course it's a bit cramped when you want to brush your teeth.

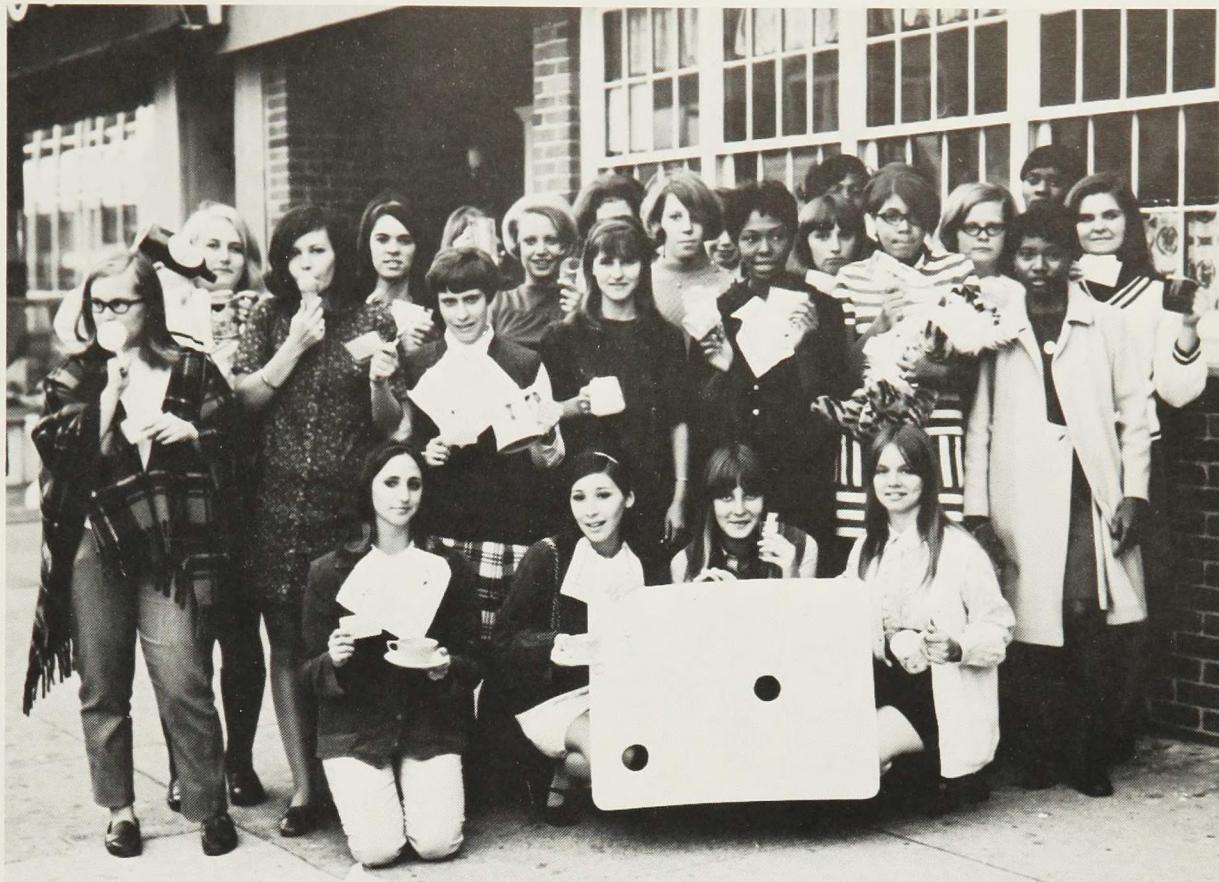

The second floor of Clee Hall has a majority of freshmen. It has been commended by Parent's Magazine.

69 Oakland is another resident house for men. Fresh air is devoutly sought after and its location is great for those who like an aerial view.

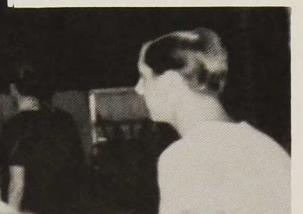

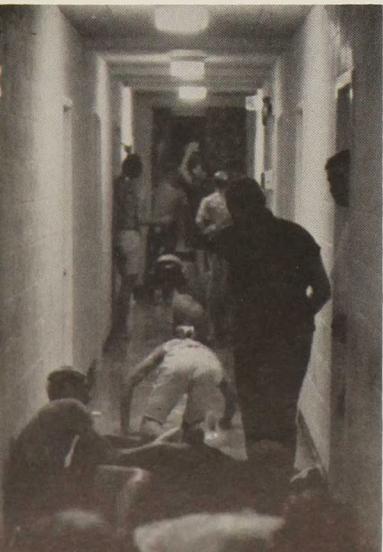

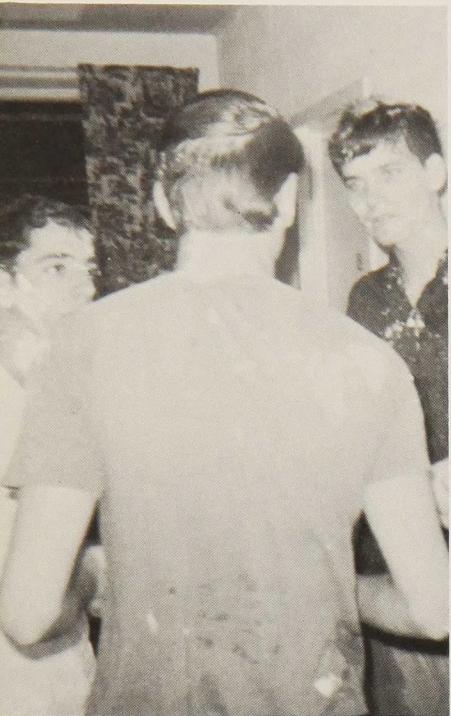

The third floor of Clee Hall consists of freshmen and upperclassmen whose basic concern is obvious.

60 Spruce is another residential house for men. In this house brother like cooperation is encouraged and practiced.

OCS

Learn to be a leader. This is an exclusive, demanding program for young men who are aiming high and who have the physical stamina and mental capacity to be a United States Army Officer. If you qualify, you will receive leadership training reserved for the cream of the crop. You'll be commissioned as a Second Lieutenant in the U.S. Army. You'll build valuable qualities of self-confidence and leadership that will help you excell wherever you go, whatever you do.

Enrollment guaranteed—if you successfully meet the tough physical and mental qualifications for this program, the Army guarantees your enrollment in Officer Candidate School. You have it in writing. And you may indicate your preference of branch of service.

How do you qualify? You must be a citizen of the United States, be at least 18 years of age and not have passed your 27th birthday at the time you enlist. You must be a graduate of, or a senior in, a college or university recognized by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. ROTC training is not required.

Your training—After basic and advanced combat training, you will commence your guaranteed training at Officer Candidate School.

It's not a soft touch. Army OCS is for top men. You'll have 23 weeks of rigorous training. During this period you'll prove yourself under intense mental pressure and physical exercise. You'll be under constant evaluation by your fellow candidates and officers. You'll see that only the best men make the grade at OCS.

Your life as an officer—Life as an Army Officer has many advantages. You meet people of high calibre, and with similar interests. You'll belong to an officer's club and have post exchange and commissary privileges. You (and your family if you are married) will have free medical care, free legal advice and counsel. You receive 30 days paid vacation every year, right from the start.

Life as an Army officer is full and rewarding. With the benefits you receive, your salary goes a long way . . . and the path is open to you for advancement in rank and pay.

College Seniors—apply early—to allow for the advance paperwork to be completed, you may submit your application to your local Army Recruiter.
